BAIS MEDRASH ZICHRON MEIR

TRANSFER CREDITS

Credits may be granted, at the discretion of the Yeshiva, for study and courses taken at another postsecondary institution of Talmudic Studies providing the following conditions are met:

- The credits transferred must be based on course work similar in content, style and academic rigor to the one offered at the Yeshiva.
- The student must have achieved a grade that would have enabled him to pass a similar course at the Yeshiva.
- All credits must be properly documented.
- Transfer credits accepted are counted toward both the number of attempted credits and the number of credits earned by the student.
- Transfer credits are generally granted for study at an accredited institution.

Knowledge, experiences, and prior enrollment in courses related to the field of Talmudic Studies may be eligible for transfer credits as prior learning experience. These credits are assessed when the student is admitted to Bais Medrash Zichron Meir.

An evaluation may be performed that assesses the student's competency in reading and interpreting Talmud and measures analytical skills and critical thinking and reasoning abilities. The evaluation ascertains the level and type of study appropriate for the students in Bais Medrash Zichron Meir. The student is then awarded credits by evaluation.

To earn a Bachelor of Talmudic Studies degree, students must fulfill a minimum academic residency requirement of 30 credits earned in residence for study at Bais Medrash Zichron Meir, of the total 150 credits.

Bais Medrash Zichron Meir does not have any articulation agreements with regard to whether the Yeshiva will accept credits from other institutions nor with regard to whether other institutions accept the Yeshiva's credits. Before enrolling in the institution, students should be sure that their attendance will help them reach their educational goals.

Please be advised that the transferability of credits and acceptance of the degree earned at Bais Medrash Zichron Meir are at the complete discretion of an institution to which a student may seek to transfer. If the credits or the degree earned at this institution are not accepted at the institution to which a student seeks to transfer, he may be required to repeat some or all of the coursework at that institution.
